

The National Open Art Competition 2010

The Artist Preview and the Private View followed by The 2nd Chichester Art Lecture given by Sir Christopher Frayling were all buzzing with art lovers. The standard of art this year has once again escalated and we will be showcasing at The National Open Art Exhibition the diversity of visual arts in 2010, including for the first year Art Photography.

"...it was exciting to see that artists with considerable reputations are also attracted to what is fast becoming a major UK competition." Catherine Lampert 2010

The Towry Joint 1st Prize was awarded to Emma Haworth and Jarik Jongman the judges were unable to decide on an overall winner so decided to split the prize.

The Towry 3rd Prize was awarded to Michael Porter

The Towry Heart of England Prize was awarded to Michael Newton

The Rebecca Hossack Gallery in London represents Emma Haworth. Meaning of Blue oil on canvas is an urban landscape with an edgy narrative. Haworth won the Sunday Times Watercolour Competition earlier this year now in its 23rd year; it is the largest watercolour competition in the UK, and the only remaining prize to celebrate this often overlooked and undervalued medium.

WW Gallery in London represents Jarik Jongman. Phenomena, oil on canvas is a haunting allegory with ethereal tones. Jongman was shortlisted for the Threadneedle Art Prize 2010.

Purdy Hicks Gallery in London represents Michael Porter Coastal Path, oil and acrylic on canvas, is an intimate study of organic matter. Porter lives and works in Cornwall.

Michael Newton's Brain Damage which is a large oil on canvas painting, is both dark in colour and intent. Newton is studying at Bath Spa University and exhibits at Bo -Lee Gallery in Bath.

The judges, this year, were headed up by Gavin Turk renowned for being one of the founder members of the Young British Artist group, and more recently, for establishing The House of Fairy Tales a not-for-profit, child-centred, artist-led touring project, which he set up with his partner Deborah Curtis. Gavin was supported on the panel by:

- Catherine Lampert former director of the Whitechapel Gallery in London.
- Lisa Wright Towry 1st Prize NOACC 2009 winner and lecturer at University College Falmouth,
- Francis Hodgson photographic critic for the Financial Times and Chairman of Prix Pictet the world's leading prize in photography and sustainability with a prize of CHF 100,000 and a field trip to a region where the bank Pictet & Cie is supporting a sustainable project for the successful photographer.
- David Barrie our lay judge

These five were tasked with finding the finalists to be showcased at the Minerva Theatre, Chichester Festival Theatre from October 30th - November 13th open daily 10am - 5pm for details of events please look on the web site.
